

To Whom it May Concern,

I have referred a number of clients to Alec Touris of Atrium Management. I will continue to do so as Alec's level of follow up, professionalism and market knowledge are outstanding. As a real estate professional myself, I know how hard it is to find a good property manager. Alec and Atrium management have outstanding systems in place including a great local presence and reputation. I have trusted them with my most demanding clients and they have done a fantastic job communicating with all parties such as imparting valuable market information while always keeping us updated. In Orlando's world of property management companies, Alec and Atrium management really hit a high note.
